A resolution passed by the di-rectors requests United States Senator Frank B. Brandegee to arrange for a meeting of the Connecticut delegation for the prompt introduction in congress of a measure which will enable the United States interstate commerce commission to legally grant permission for the continued operation of the steamship line by the New Haven steamship line by the New Haven road.

The meeting was called to order shortly after $.15 o'clock by Vice President Shepard B. Palmer. Reports were received from the special committees on the Eastern Connecticut banquet to be held January 22.

By special invitation James L. Case appeared before the board to outline a membership campaign. Three Huhdred Members in One Day is the slogan for the campaign. Mr. Case was selected by the board to take full charge and to outline in detail the work for the campaign. There are to be ten captains who will choose ten men each to serve with them to canvass the city on a certain day, namely, Friday, January 19. H. R. BRANCHE, Secretary.

The report of the special committee appointed by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce to make all arrangements for the care and comfort of the delegates to the Connecticut State Grange convention, held in Norwich, Jan. 9, 19 and 11, 1917, and comprising Charles A. Hagberg, Woodbury O. Rogers and Herbert R. Branche, was presented as follows:

The convention met in our city by invitation of the Norwich Chamber of Commerce, the matter first being brought before that body in the early spring and the invitation promptly extended.

New Haven had been selected as the convention city this year. Members of the chamber of commerce used such influence as, they possessed with the local grange to steer the convention toward Norwich. With such success as you gentlemen know.

Your committee has held numerous meetings since its appointment and has met with the universal support of all.

has met with the universal support of all.

What seems to many to be the greatest obstacle in the path of the convention being held in Norwich was the limited amount of hotel accommodation, less than 200 being able to find accommodations at our hotels and rooming houses.

Your committee appointed a subcommittee of six ladies, all members of the local grange to canvass their respective sections of the city with the view of securing rooms in private homes that could be used for the visitors. This committee consisted of Mrs. Charles A. Hagberg, Mrs. W. O. Rogers, Mrs. A. A. Robinson, Mrs. William J. Banfield, Mrs. Ambrose Sullivan, Mrs. H. R. Branche.

Success more than crowned their efforts. In a three days canvass one hundred and fifty-five homes offered rooming accommodation for 216 people.

This in addition to hotel, rooming houses and other outside assistance. A special reception committee consisting of A. A. Robinson, Elmore H. Berry and Edward Coole, ably assisted by the boy scouts looked after tvery comfort of our guests.

The convention required the securin gof three halls, viz: The town half Olympic and grange.

Olympic and grange. Headquarters were established in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, where through the courtesy of L. M. Crandall, bureaus of information and assignment of rooms were opened.

Each delegate was required to compare the compared to this room give their name, and the compared to this room give their name, and the compared to this room give their name, and the compared to the compared to

to this room give their name, and an introduction card signed by the entertainment committee. This card bore the name of the people whose hospitality they were to share together with the name of the street and carline. In all cases where there was carline. In all cases where there was some doubt in the minds of the delegates about finding the location a boy scout was sent all of the way with them. This feature did more to pless than any other one thing. We owe much to the board of education, to Supt. E. A. Graham of the public schools and to Benjamin M. Bruce, master of the Boy Scouts and to the scouts themselves for this feature of the program.

To the ladies of Norwich a specia To the ladies of Norwich a special vote of thanks for their earnest cooperation in throwing open their homes to upwards of 200 strangers. This of itself is a very noticeable act and one to be commended by this chamber of commerce.

To the press, who early took up the publicity of the program with the suc-ces that always crowns such efforts To the merchants who spared no expense in order that our guests might be made welcome and feel at east, your committee owes much. In a conversation I had this morn-ing with State Master Davis and Secretary Loomis they were loud in ing with State Master Davis and Secretary Loomis they were loud in their praise of the reception they had received in Norwich. This sentiment existed all down the line, stating they had never been accorded a greater welcome or greater attention than nad been accorded them here.

Nearly one hundred per cent of the delegates attended. The attendance on Tuesday was 700, on Wednesday 800, and on Thursday 600.

The citizens of Norwich who have shared their homes are also full of praise for the high grade of citizenship, of the class of people that go to make up the personnel of the state grange.

grange. CASE AGAINST ALLEGED EMBEZZLER STARTED THURSDAY One More Witness to Be Heard Before Case Goes to Jury.

When the criminal superior court came in Thursday at 11 o'clock, at the suggestion of State Attorney Hull, the case of the state vs. John Muckensturm, aged 16, of Smith's Corners, was continued to the next term and the boy was put in the care of the probation officer.

The case of the state vs. John Higgins was nolled.

After a jury had been chosen, the trial of the case of Maurice V. Fitzgerald was started. He is charged with embezzling rents which he collected for Reuben and Louis Lubshinsky of New London. His defense is that he has a claim of $500 for his services and had good reason to believe that he was not going to receive this amount. He says that he had to be responsible for various bills, such as repairs, etc., and that there was some discussion as to which of the Lubschansky brothers should receive the money as they both claimed it. There 432-19 chansky brothers should receive the 432-3 money, as they both claimed it. There 431-9 is one more witness to be heard before 429-15 the case goes to the jury.

Occasional and Control

Supt. Clara M. H. McGuigan of the Mystic* Oral school for the deaf on Wednesday submitted her blennial report for the two years ending Oct. I, 1916, together with the report of Principal Tobia Brill and Treasurer C. H. Latham. The school closed last June with 65 pupils and as in the previous report a requisition is made for an appropriation for another dormitory, "so that boys and girls may occupy sepatation."

that boys and girls may occupy separate buildings and have proper playroom and hospital facilities."

The report says the present high cost of living and ever increasing salaries demand an increase of the alaries demand an increase of the allowance of $300 per pupil to $325. The superintendent thinks it wise for the state to own its school for the deaf and says she is willing to sell her interest in the school for a just compensation. "I have never conducted the school to make money," continues the report. "I have never received compensation for my services. I am still willing to go on and manage the school to the best of my ability, but life is uncertain. I am older than I was 21 years ago, when the school was 21 years ago, when the school opened, and I fully realize that if the state owned the school its future would be secure.

"I wish this school might be the ploneer of what I consider an ideal school for the deaf, that is, one conschool for the dear, that is, one conducted entirely on the cottage plan with 15 children in each cottage, and teachers and a housekeeper in each one. The expense of maintenance would be somewhat increased, but the children would be greatly benefited." children would be greatly benefited," concludes the superintendent's report.

Principal Brill explains the splendid industrial training of the boys and girls and praises the work of the teachers and officers of the school. Treasurer Latham's report shows expenditures of $23,471.35 in 1915 and $25,503.47 in 1916, of which more than one-third is for salaries, and receipts in 1915 of $23,787.76, including the state appropriation of $19,514.50, and in 1916 of $26.016.43, of which $19,025.13 came from the state. came from the state.
